Plains Art Museum Cancelling Indigenous Art Sale

Press Release

For Immediate Release (November 2021)

Fargo, North Dakota – Plains Art Museum is postponing its annual Indigenous Art Fair scheduled on Saturday, November 13 to a date yet to be determined this spring.

This would have been the sixth year for the Indigenous Art Fair, which features Indigenous artists from around the region. The rescheduled date will be announced on the Museum's social media channels and in its newsletter.

Plains Art Museum is the largest and only accredited art museum in North Dakota. It is your nonprofit museum and education center, supported by over 800 individuals and organizations. The Museum and its Katherine Kilbourne Burgum Center of Creativity are located at 704 First Avenue North in downtown Fargo.
